

PRESS RELEASE

SIFS Celebrates Outstanding 99% Distinction Achieved by Barbados Financial Services Commission's Sade Jemmott

For Immediate Release

Jersey, Channel Islands, September 9, 2026 – The School of International Financial Services (SIFS) is delighted to announce and celebrate the outstanding achievement of Sade Jemmott, who has achieved a remarkable 99% and Distinction in the International Certificate in Financial Services Regulation (ICFSR), accredited by CGI UK & Ireland.

Sade, General Counsel at the Financial Services Commission (Barbados), achieved the highest mark across the history of this examination, demonstrating an exceptional level of knowledge and understanding of financial services regulation.

The ICFSR provides professionals with a comprehensive understanding of the regulatory principles and frameworks underpinning effective financial services regulation, including regulatory objectives, risk-based supervision, regulatory judgement, intervention and enforcement.

Colin Solomon, Lead Tutor for the ICFSR, said:

"From our very first session, it was clear that Sade was determined to make the most of the ICFSR programme and the opportunity to learn alongside professionals from three different jurisdictions. She consistently demonstrated an impressive depth of knowledge, while also contributing thoughtfully to discussions and challenging perspectives in a constructive way. Her engagement throughout the programme was exceptional, and it is particularly rewarding to see that commitment reflected in such an outstanding examination result. Sade's achievement is thoroughly deserved, and I am delighted to see her recognised with the highest mark in the cohort."

Warrick Ward, CEO of the Financial Services Commission (Barbados), said:

"Sade's achievement of 99% with a Distinction is truly exceptional and a testament to her dedication, expertise and commitment to continuous professional development. As a lawyer with a genuine thirst for knowledge, Sade consistently seeks to deepen her understanding and strengthen her expertise so that she can better support her colleagues in the Supervision and Regulation Department and contribute to the work of the FSC as a whole. She is a highly valued resource to the Commission, and her commitment to continuous learning sets an excellent example for all of us. This outstanding result is thoroughly deserved, and we are very proud of her achievement."

Sir Patterson Cheltenham, Chairman of the Board of the Financial Services Commission (Barbados), said:

"Congratulations to our esteemed General Counsel, Sade Jemmott, on her remarkable achievement in attaining a 99% Distinction in this highly relevant professional qualification."

This outstanding result reflects her exceptional dedication, discipline and professionalism, and is a testament to her unwavering commitment to excellence and continuous professional development. Sade's achievement is a source of great pride for the Commission and reflects the valuable contribution she continues to make to the work of the FSC."

Sade's achievement highlights the importance of continued professional development for financial services practitioners and the value of developing regulatory expertise to support strong and effective financial services regulation.

About the School of International Financial Services (SIFS)

The School of International Financial Services (SIFS) is a leading provider of professional education and training for financial services practitioners across international finance centres. Based in Jersey, SIFS delivers industry-focused qualifications, courses and professional development opportunities designed to support individuals and organisations in developing the knowledge and expertise needed to operate effectively within an evolving regulatory and financial services landscape.

SIFS works with professionals, regulators and financial services organisations across jurisdictions, providing practical and accessible learning that reflects the needs of the industry. Through its programmes, webinars and specialist training, SIFS is committed to supporting continuous professional development and strengthening expertise across the global financial services community. The SIFS Open Access platform extends this further, giving firms and their teams on-demand access to SIFS's growing library of CPD content, so that high-quality training is available whenever and wherever it is needed.

For more information about SIFS, please visit sifs.co.uk.

Media Contact

Caitlin Andrade

Relationship Manager

School of International Financial Services (SIFS)

caitlin.andrade@sifs.co.uk

END